CHARLES W. ANDERSON, JR.
1907-1960

Charles W. Anderson, Jr. was elected to the Kentucky General Assembly in January of 1936 and served five consecutive terms.

When he was sworn into office, he became the first African-American Legislator both in Kentucky and in the South since the Reconstruction era. Throughout his tenure he was the catalyst for passage of legislation guaranteeing opportunities for African-American students and prohibiting racial discrimination in the hiring on public building projects. His career was dedicated to equal treatment, and he spearheaded a movement to allow female teachers to keep their teaching positions after marriage. Charles Anderson also served as Assistant Commonwealth's Attorney for Jefferson County in 1946 and culminated his public service in 1960 when he was named by President of the United States as Alternate United States Delegate to the United Nations General Assembly. Because of his dedication and commitment to racial and social issues, an award was created in his honor by the Department of Personnel (Now the Personnel Cabinet). The Charles Anderson Laureate Award was first presented by the Department of Personnel in 1989. Since that time the Award was established there have been 55 recipients. Charles W. Anderson, Jr. was a true pioneer and in his honor the Personnel Cabinet is proud to present the Charles Anderson Award for achievements in promoting equal employment opportunities.
